Welcome!

We are so glad that you are here! This symposium is a collaborative space where scholars from across different disciplines and institutions have come together to engage with archival research.

As graduate students, we recognize that archival research is fruitful, enriching, and unlocks scholarly depth for each of us in different ways -- but we also know it can be daunting!

We invite you to join us: to gain confidence, learn new skills, and to participate in research and community.

Funding provided by:
Rhetoric Society of American Special Event Grant
The University of Maryland Graduate School
Research and Scholarship Award, Dr. Michelle
Murray Yang

Co-sponsored by:
